FAVORS REPEAL OF FREE TOLLS

President Expresses Views on Panama Canal Act.

HOUSE WILLING TO RESPOND

Democratic Leaders in the Senate, However, Are Not So Certain That Action on This Proposition Can Be Favorably Secured—Wilson Believes Free Passage for American Ships is a Treaty Violation.

Washington, Feb. 6.—President Wilson announced that he would endeavor to have repealed at the present session of congress that provision of the Panama canal act which exempts American coastwise ships from the payment of tolls. He made his position clear to callers in unequivocal terms.

The president believes that the Hay-Pauncefote treaty with Great Britain guarantees equality of treatment to all nations, including the United States, in the matter of tolls, and that the United States is in honor bound to charge American vessels the same tolls it imposes upon those of foreign nations.

The president impressed upon his callers that he would use every legitimate influence at his disposal to have the exemption clause eliminated from the Panama canal act.

Senate's Attitude Doubtful.

The president's views will be carried out in the house with little difficulty, according to Representative Adamson, chairman of the interstate and foreign commerce committee. Not so certain, however, are some of the Democratic leaders in the senate that he will be sustained.

The president's announcement grew out of a report that he did not seek action at the present congress. Senator O'Gorman, on leaving the White House, said he had discussed the tolls question casually with the president and expressed the view that congress could do little else at the present session besides passing the trust bills and appropriation measures.

The president sought to make clear that this was Senator O'Gorman's own impression of the legislative situation, but that as far as he was concerned he earnestly hoped for action at the present session.

Illness May Delay Action.

The illness of Chairman Bacon of the senate foreign relations committee may delay action in congress on the tolls question. The president already has communicated his views on the subject of tolls to the committee.

There have been no developments on the diplomatic side of the controversy since the last note of Sir Edward Grey was received in the closing days of the Taft administration.

Great Britain since then has not pressed for any reply, which circumstance generally has been taken to mean that intimations of some kind of President Wilson's friendly attitude toward the British contention had been conveyed to the London government.

It is probable that the proposed repeal legislation will be initiated in the house through the interstate and foreign commerce committee.

PROBES LEAVE WASHINGTON

House Committee Will Investigate Mine Strike Conditions.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Congressional subcommittees, charged by the house to investigate the strikes in the coal mine fields of Colorado and the copper mine region of Michigan, left Washington for their respective fields of work.

Representative Foster of Illinois, chairman of the house committee on mines, headed the Colorado delegation, and Representative Taylor of Colorado will direct the work in Michigan.

Chairman Foster said just before leaving that it probably would take about two weeks in the Colorado field to gather all the facts necessary and Representative Taylor figured on being away about three weeks.

ICE CRUSHES SMALL BOAT

Three Men Perish in Lake Michigan Near Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—Three men, two of them employed at an intake crib two miles off shore, were drowned when the small boat in which they were trying to return to the crib was crushed in the ice.

One of the victims is believed to be William F. Cannell, keeper of the crib. The second was his brother-in-law and the third a physician. Mrs. Cannell and her baby daughter remained on the crib. She was ill and the physician was sought to attend her.

His statement was called forth by an inquiry regarding a report that he intended soon to resign the leadership to a committee of three of his friends. "That is not true," he said.

OFFICERS EVICT FAMILY BY RUSE

Mother and Daughters Put Up Plucky Resistance.

GUNS AND DOGS GUARD HOUSE

City of Milwaukee Had Failed in Efforts to Purchase the Property and Finally Secured Possession by Condemnation—Deputy Lures Woman From House and Lively Fight Occurs Upon Her Return.

Milwaukee, Feb. 6.—After a two-week siege, during which a woman and her family of girls withstood attacks by the Milwaukee police, the Milwaukee county sheriff and his deputies and a court order of eviction, Mrs. Mary Klinkhammer, sixty years old, was led from her home by a ruse by Deputy Sheriff Frank Walsh and the city took possession of the property.

The Klinkhammer homestead has been sought for several years by school officials so that the land can be added to the Windlake avenue school. All attempts at purchase failed. Finally it was condemned and a value of $3,050 was placed on the home. Mrs. Klinkhammer, however, refused to accept the price and demanded $4,200. This was refused and a court order of eviction was issued. Police officers made several ineffectual attempts to move the woman from the place. Instead, she secured several vicious dogs and placed them at places of entry to the house. She barred her windows, procured guns and ammunition.

Mrs. Klinkhammer was called to the rear door of her home on the pretext that one of her children had been taken ill at school and while there officers broke down the front door and entered the "fort." They had just completed confiscating the arms and ammunition when Mrs. Klinkhammer returned with her family of girls.

She and the girls attacked the officers, biting, scratching and striking. One of her daughters released the dogs and for a time the eight husky deputy sheriffs had a hot fight on their hands.

ST. PAUL GRAFT TRIAL ENDS

Two Former Police Officers Are Found Not Guilty.

St. Paul, Feb. 6.—Hissses greeted a verdict of "not guilty" in the cases of Martin J. Flanagan, former acting chief of police of St. Paul, and Fred Turner, former city detective, charged with acceptance of a $1,000 bribe from Dorothy Hazzard, a resort keeper, in Ramsey county district court. While the bailiff in the Ramsey county district court rapped for order many of those present pressed forward to shake hands with the defendants and they in turn grasped the hands of the jurors.

On motion of County Attorney R. D. O'Brien the court ordered that Flanagan and Turner be placed on trial Monday on an indictment alleging receipt of a bribe of $3,000 in January, 1913, from Ida Dorsey, a former Minneapolis resort keeper. Mr. O'Brien said there are thirteen similar indictments against Flanagan and Turner and that if necessary he intends to prosecute all of them.

CITES NEED FOR BIG NAVY

Should Be Able to Crush Any Other, Says Admiral Sigsbee.

New York, Feb. 6.—Rear Admiral Charles B. Sigsbee, retired, commander of the Maine at the time she was blown up in Havana harbor, spoke on "The Influence of the Panama Canal on Our Future Navy Policy," at the first of a series of "table talks" at the Press club.

The canal, he said, would cut 5,000 miles from the passage of American ships from coast to coast of the country, but it would serve the same purpose for other nations with which the United States might be at war if they got control of it; hence the need of a navy which could crush anything that stood in its way.

Washington, Feb. 6.—"Rebating on transportation of alien immigrants amounting to more than $2,000,000 annually will be ended," declared Representative Manahan, "if my amendment to the immigration bill is passed." The amendment referred to prohibits the payment of any rebate of fare to any transportation company in the United States. Mr. Manahan claims that under an agreement between the railroads and the steamship companies the railroads have been paying a rebate on each alien passenger from New York and other ports from small amounts up to $4.

U. S. MAY PENSION DIXIE VETERANS

Opposition Comes Largely From Men of the South.

OLD SOLDIERS FAVOR IDEA.

Old Models in Patent Office to Be Put to Practical Use in Schools—Texas Congressman Points Out That Taxpayers Are Made the Goat—Settlers Best Men to Judge Alaska.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Feb. 6.—[Special.]—If southern congressmen should agree among themselves to support a bill granting pensions to Confederate veterans who are no longer able to support themselves there is a possibility that it might pass.

The matter came up during the consideration of a private pension bill recently, and quite a number of southern men denounced the proposition and declared that under no circumstances would they vote for such a measure. Several claimed that the southern states were taking care of the Confederate veterans and that it was no part of the duty of the federal government to pension them.

The statement was made that 95 per cent of the Confederate veterans are in favor of the proposed legislation. If that is true it would seem that the sentiment in favor of such a measure would soon reach the members of congress from that section.

They Won't Score.

Congressmen who are determined to put through certain legislation will not be scared by the same bogie men that used to be so effective. The government ownership of railroads in the Alaska railroad bill did not prevent Democrats in numbers from voting for the measure.

Scott Ferris, who is one of several Oklahoma men who do not stand for everything the president wants, told the house that the Alaska bill not only committed the government to a new and untried policy, but that it was extravagant in the extreme. "Tom Reed and his party were swept from power on account of the extravagance of the Fifty-first congress," declared Ferris. That sounded well, but as a matter of fact Reed and his party went out on account of the McKinley tariff bill.

Making Use of Models.

Congressman Bowditch of Ohio has proposed a resolution authorizing the commissioner of patents to loan the old, useless and deteriorating models in possession of the patent office to schools. In these days few models are submitted for patent purposes; nearly everything is presented by drawings. The old models are curious, but just what good they will do the school children is problematical. It would seem to take their minds off their real necessary studies, but that seems to be a popular method in many schools these days.

Taxpayer the Goat.

"We are making the taxpayer the 'goat' on every proposition," declared Congressman Dies of Texas, opposing a pension proposition. "There is a bill to pension mothers. Great God! What could appeal more to you than the aged and decrepit mothers of the land, those who gave birth to and sheltered and nurtured the congressmen?" "How about old maids?" interjected Barkley of Kentucky, who thought the Texas man was getting too serious. "Some day the taxpayer will be tired of being the goat," continued Dies, "and he will wake up and make you tremble when you are voting away his money in pensions."

Experts and Practical Men.

Several senators were talking about what the experts had found in Alaska. "I don't take much stock in what experts report on these subjects," said Senator Clark of Wyoming, who has lived long in the west. "I should prefer reports from practical men who go into the new regions for the purpose of looking for a livelihood, who are working for themselves and who do not go simply as men employed to look at the country and make reports." He went on to say that the west had been developed by such practical men rather than by experts.

Moore Extends Thanks.

J. Hampton Moore was given time to address the house one afternoon so late in the day that nearly everybody had gone home. He began by telling the story of a speaker who had an audience of one man and tendered his thanks when he concluded his address. "You don't have to thank me," said the man. "I'm the next speaker on the program and was obliged to stay." Moore then thanked Congressman Payne, Sam Smith and one or two others who yet remained in the house. "But we are not on the program," said Payne. "So much more do I owe thanks for your presence," said the Philadelphia Chesterfield.

Matter of Location.

On the day that Congressman Moon complained because the president had forced out of the appropriation bill the provision for taking assistant postmasters out of the civil service Lenroot of Wisconsin replied. "Honest confession is good for the soul," he quoted. "We have known for a long time that the Democratic majority of the house was not located across the aisle, but at the other end of Pennsylvania avenue, in the White House."

Sarcastic.

"The screeching of that soprano makes me weary." "I thought you liked high bawls."—Boston Transcript.

SCHMIDT IS FOUND GUILTY

Former Priest Will Be Sentenced to Electric Chair.

New York, Feb. 6.—Hans Schmidt, a former priest, was found guilty of murder in the first degree for killing Anna Aumuller, a young woman he had married through a self-performed ceremony while acting as a priest at St. Joseph's church. The penalty for the crime is death in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison. He will be sentenced next Wednesday.

Schmidt, whose defense was insanity, laughed bitterly when the verdict was pronounced. He had steadfastly declared himself guilty and at his arraignment before being held for the supreme court pleaded that he be punished by death. Later he protested against the insanity defense advanced by his counsel and said he would not assist them in any way if they prepared an appeal.

EXCITING SCENES AT MURDER TRIAL

Woman Defendant and Her Daughter Collapse.

St. Louis, Feb. 6.—Mrs. Emily C. Roberts, on trial for the murder of her husband, fainted in the criminal court here as she was being led to a room where her daughter, Mrs. Birdie Healy, had been taken after fainting on the witness stand. Mrs. Healy collapsed after telling a startling story of the mistreatment of her mother by her father.

When the two women fainted the presiding judge and attorneys for the prosecution and defense rushed to their assistance.

Mrs. Viola Brinkman, another daughter of Mrs. Roberts, became hysterical and women among the crowd of spectators screamed. Judge Jones adjourned court for an hour. Mrs. Roberts shot her husband, W. P. Roberts, at the home of their son last March. The attorneys for Mrs. Roberts have set up a plea of insanity, claiming that her mind was deranged by the treatment accorded her by her husband.

Stevenson Carried His Tail Hat.

Sir Sidney Colvin, in a lecture on "Personal Reminiscences of R. L. Stevenson," denied firmly that Stevenson had any affection.

"R. L. S.," said Sir Sidney, "did once possess a frock coat and tall hat, which he acquired for the purposes of a wedding. Coming to London subsequently, he made the concession to my respectability of donning the coat and hat, and thus we walked down Piccadilly. But the hat was in Stevenson's hand, and as the gates of Burlington House closed on us, Stevenson was declaiming in vibrant voice and rich Scotch accent a chorus from Milton's 'Samson Agonistes.'"—London Globe.

Warm Debate on Agricultural Extension Bill.

JONES PRODUCES AMENDMENT

Washington Senator Urges Provision to Allow Negro Colleges of the South to Expend Some of the Funds Proposed for Farm Demonstration Work—Senators Hoke Smith and Vardaman Vigorously Object.

Washington, Feb. 6.—An amendment by Senator Jones of Washington to the agricultural extension bill, which would insure to negro colleges of the South the administration of a portion of the funds proposed for farm demonstration work, led to sharp debates in the senate over the racial question.

Senator Jones for more than three hours defended the principle of the amendment. Senators Hoke Smith of Georgia and Vardaman of Mississippi contended that the administration of the appropriation should be left in the hands of the white man, who would "do more for the negro than the negro could do for himself."

Senator Jones had not proceeded far with his argument that the negro should be allowed to handle part of the funds from the federal treasury before Senator Vardaman suggested he had "better take a few days off and study the question."

Senator Vardaman was on his feet again when Senator Jones, a few minutes later, mentioned the progress of the negroes.

"Their progress has been due to what the white man has taught them," insisted the Mississippi senator. "And let me say that myself and the other white men of the South would do more to preserve the negroes' life, liberty and pursuit of happiness than others far away who love them as a race and would let them starve at their gates."

Now in Control of Port in State of Sinaloa.

Nogales, Ariz., Feb. 6.—Mazatlan, an important seaport port in the state of Sinaloa, fell into the hands of Carranza's rebel forces, according to information received in Nogales, Sonora, from rebel sources.

The federals had taken the larger portion of their troops out of Mazatlan and sent them to the defense of Guaymas. This weakened the garrison so that the rebel invasion was comparatively easy, although much hot fighting is said to have accompanied the fall of the port.

ADMINISTRATION OF RAILWAYS IS BECOMING MORE PRACTICAL

Old Order Is Changing In Railway Management. From the Ranks Have Risen New Officials.

THE old order is changing in regard to the administration of railroads throughout the United States and is yielding to a new order more in adjustment with the spirit of the times. Individualism and the gratification of personal ambition for empire making are rapidly becoming things of the past in the railroad business.

A few years ago financiers like E. H. Harriman were battling with each other for possession of strategic lines in order to choke a competitor and build up their own power. Today railroad men are coming into authority who are operating their roads with the idea that they will get their reward if they serve the people.

Instead of trying to see how much money they can make with poor service and skilful finance juggling, they are making their money by good management and a study of the needs of the people.

One of the men belonging to the new order is Howard Elliott, chief executive officer of the New York, New Haven and Hartford and New England Transportation lines.

The new railroad men know more about railroads than they do about Wall street. They began down in the ranks and worked up to leadership without favoritism. Howard Elliott was a rodman when he entered the railroad service in 1880. From that time to the present he has been closely identified with the rails and steam whistle. Now, as a president after thirty-three years, there isn't anything about a railroad that his subordinates can tell him.

After years of hard work the Vanderbilts found it easier to let others manage their affairs, and, as a result, a live executive like W. C. Brown came to the helm of the New York Central, and he instituted a new era in the life of that road.

Brown rose from the ranks and was vice president and general manager of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railroad when he was selected as president of the New York Central. He brought with him Alfred H. Smith, who had served as general superintendent of the Lake Shore. Just recently Brown retired and Smith succeeded him as president of the New York Central.

Smith started his railroad career at the bottom, first as a messenger boy, then as a workman on a construction gang. He is another of the practical railroad men who are taking the control of American railroads from the Wall street financiers. Most of the great systems have enthroned the worker and the hustler. The way to the presidency of a railway formerly lay through Wall street; now it is via the construction gang, overalls and practical experience.

One of the railroads that has shown the effect of the dawn of the new era is the Southern Pacific, with its allied lines. When Harriman was still alive he maintained his offices in New York and from there manipulated his railroads in a mighty battle with James J. Hill of the Northern Pacific lines.

Harriman was not a railroad builder. Railroads to him were so many stocks on the market and so many lines on the map. Others built the roads. He acquired them in Wall street. He bought them because he was able to buy when others had to sell. He had imagination and could picture red line upon red line on a map of the United States, showing the ever growing Harriman system.

Then he died, and the heirs and other stockholders put in new men to take his place. Men were chosen from the railroad's own territory to take up the management. In Portland, Ore., J. D. Farrell was placed in charge of the Oregon Short Line. In Omaha A. L. Mohler took charge of the Union Pacific. In Houston, Tex., W. B. Scott was chosen chief of the Harriman lines. E. Randolph was given a chance to run the Southern Pacific of Mexico, operating from Tucson, Ariz. At San Francisco William Sproule controls the Southern Pacific. Still greater directing heads bind the lines together, but the individual sections are operated from the territory the railroad serves and for the people it serves.

Family ties formerly played an important part in keeping incompetent men at the head of great railroads. They cut little figure now. Ability counts. Every new head of the Harriman lines is a man who has come from the ranks. Some learned their railroad alphabet throwing switches and ticking telegraph keys. Some learned it throwing coal into a firebox.

Mohler started as a rate clerk on the Northwestern. Sproule was a traffic man under the old Southern Pacific regime and was later chief of transportation for the Guggenheim interests. He came to his present position from the presidency of the Wells-Fargo Express company.

When B. F. Bush became head of the Missouri Pacific the road had been deteriorating for years.

Up to a few years ago Bush was practically unknown in the railroad world, but his wonderful ability as a railroad man was soon discovered and his advancement was fast. Few men have risen as rapidly as he has. The first position he held in the railroad world was rodman on the Northern Pacific. After a few years he became identified with coal companies and soon became an authority on fuel. He was thus thoroughly equipped for his first position in the Gould system, which was as fuel agent. When George Gould bought the Western Maryland Bush was elected president of that road. After his executive ability had placed this road on a good earning basis he was placed in charge of the Missouri Pacific, where his excellent administration is being felt.

Another man who has learned the railroad business from the ground up, is Carl R. Gray, who started as a telegraph operator, and is now the president of the Hill interests.

A conspicuous example of the change from the rule of finance to that of railroad experience is shown in the new management of the Seaboard Air Line in the election of William J. Harahan to its presidency. He is a born railroad man, and the story is told of him that he learned his alphabet from a time table.

The rise of the new men to the leadership of great railroads is due to their attitude toward the road and toward the public. They consider themselves trustees of public property and conduct their business accordingly. Opposed to the notions of personal ownership and ambitious financial dictatorship, they take the part of a man hired to run a railroad, and they have been successful.

TO TRAIN RURAL TEACHERS ON AN ELABORATE SCALE

Schools In Ten Mile Zone Included In Iowa Laboratory Plan.

Iowa is about to undertake the most comprehensive system of training for rural teachers yet conceived. Authorization has been given by the state board of education to President H. H. Seerley of Teachers' college to organize the country schools within reasonable distance of Cedar Falls, possibly ten miles, as a great demonstration laboratory.

Actual work under the new system will be commenced next fall.

"This undertaking," says President Seerley, "involves many difficult problems, because a self satisfied, hopeless condition exists among the patrons and directors of most rural school districts. The authority of the local unit is absolutely ineffective, and the interest in the possible education obtainable in the schools is confused with many modern ideas and theories."

"The rural teacher is a statutory personality, the standard of qualification being little influenced by public sentiment or dictated by custom. Through the legal status there is very little discrimination required in recognition of true standards because the remuneration is not governed by efficiency, but by the grades on the teachers' certificates. As a consequence, all the emphasis is placed upon an artificial kind of qualification."

"It is a well known fact that the vast majority of electors and patrons of these school districts insist that taxation be kept at a minimum. The few who have different ideals yield as they recognize the incompetency of the teachers who are obtainable."

"The present examining system never can reach these fundamental difficulties."

Negotiations are pending and an agreement virtually is reached looking to the organization of all the country schools in Cedar Falls township as demonstration rural schools.

MACHINE TRANSPLANTS BONE

Small Circular Saw Driven by Motor Displaces the Hand Method.

An electrical apparatus for bone transplanting has just been received by the Jefferson hospital, Philadelphia. It consists of a small portable electric motor, which runs at high speed and drives a small circular saw and will be used to replace the slower and less efficient hand method in bone surgery.

A section of bone is removed from the tibia, or shin bone, of the patient and is transplanted to the spinal column of a patient suffering from Pott's disease. The spinous or projecting parts of a number of vertebrae are split open, and the section of bone is fixed in the depressions.

The piece of bone transplanted is generally about five inches long, one-quarter inch thick and half an inch wide.

The object of the operation is to support the vertebrae in an immovable position, taking the weight off the front portion of the vertebrae, which is the seat of the disease. This puts the spine in a more favorable position for checking the disease and repair of the broken down parts.

Putting Them at Ease.

Precedence is not the only puzzle in official and social circles in any city, but to say the right thing at the right time is equally necessary.

"To make mistakes in speech is suicidal," said a state department official recently. "Let it not be as in the case of Mrs. Brody, who gave a party, and when all the guests were in the parlor she entered with a beaming smile and said:

"Do make yourselves at home, ladies. I'm at home myself, and I wish you all were."—Washington Star.

SPARTAN WOMEN FROM OJINAGA

Made Sacrifices For Men on Dramatic March.

NOW OUR WARDS IN TEXAS.

Procession of Humiliated Mexican Federal and Their Families Under American Protection at Fort Bliss One of the Most Pathetic Incidents In History of the Revolution.

For the first time the American army has been called upon to furnish shelter, food and clothing to an entire division of a foreign army, including six disarmed generals—the Ojinaga refugees. This remnant of the Huerta forces, which is interned at Fort Bliss, Tex., numbers 3,300 men, with 1,067 women and about 300 children. These men, women and children, while wards of the United States, are held on the footing of prisoners of war. The march afoot from Presidio abounded with incidents. The birth of a child, the death of several wounded soldiers, the search for water in the desert, the constant straggling of refugees from the line of march and the rounding again were some of the difficulties with which the escort of United States cavalry had to contend.

A Pathetic Sight.

None of those in the unique caravan which, with its disarmed soldiers, women, children, horses, burros and dogs, marched afoot for three days over a wind swept mountain road was more visibly affected than General Mercado, the commander who ordered the evacuation of Ojinaga in face of the rebels' fire. Riding on a horse, his uniform covered with dust, he was confessedly humiliated not only at the defeat of his army and the necessity for flight to foreign soil, but also because of a report from Mexico City that he would be court martialed should he return to his native country. The other federal generals, who mingled with the United States cavalrymen who acted as guards—Castro, Aduna, Landa, Orpinal and Romero—had given up their swords, but some still retained on their uniforms the bits of gold braid which had not been torn off.

The marching column stretched out over a great distance to prevent confusion and to reduce as much as possible the suffering from the dust that rose in clouds from the well traveled road. All semblance of an army was missing. It was a curious mingling of people and animals, while in places the women with their red dresses and shawls gave a touch of brilliant color to the scene.

Children, perched on the top of burros that were almost covered by their burdens of domestic property, laughed and beat the animals with sticks.

Splendid Heroism of Women.

Many of the Mexicans were poorly clad and without blankets, so that their suffering at night was intense.

It was remarked by the American officers that the women stood the march best. There were instances of women who yielded their places on horseback or burros to men who found themselves tired by the walk.

A little group of women by the roadside, formed by permission of those in charge, attested the birth of a child.

The old women who attended the mother announced that a child had joined the procession, and the news traveled down the line, arousing a fire of conversation.

A rooster saved by a doting master from Ojinaga crowded his triumph from the back of a burro, to which he was carefully attached with a leather string.

The refugee camp is inclosed in eleven miles of barbed wire fence, within which the Mexicans are guarded by United States cavalry, who patrol the fence day and night.

An accounting of the cost of the feeding, sheltering and clothing of the refugees will be submitted regularly, according to the war department, with the view that the amount, estimated at $1,500 a day, shall be made a claim against the Mexican government.

The Sleepless Seven.

"There were seven of the twelve," said one of the discharged jurors in speaking of the matter next morning. "who didn't want to sleep themselves and wouldn't let the rest of us sleep. Whenever we dropped in a doze they came around and shook us till we were wide awake again."

"And you had to submit, I suppose, for they constituted the majority?"

"Yes. They were a rousing majority," said the hollow eyed juror, with a pensive attempt to be facetious.—Chicago Tribune.

Reading Advertisements.

It is not alone the people who are interested in trade who read advertisements. Few people nowadays buy other newspapers or magazines who do not read these cleverly worded and well illustrated bids for business. If you should ask the average person just why he or she is in the habit of looking over the advertisements, the chances are that you would get no direct and satisfactory answer, but the real fact is that subconsciously the public has come to regard what appears in the advertising columns as interesting reading matter.—Portland (Ore.) A Natural Cross.

One of the most beautiful natural rock carvings in the world is the Southern Cross, on the island of Grand Manan, in the bay of Fundy. It stands at the head of a ledge of rocks jutting into the bay from the foot of one of the immense cliffs at the southern end of the Grand Manan. Its shape is that of an almost perfect cross.—London Mail.

My Old Kentucky Home

Jan. 13 marks the fiftieth anniversary of the death of Stephen Collins Foster, the American song writer. "My Old Kentucky Home," one of his most famous compositions, is here with given:

The sun shines bright in the old Kentucky home;
'Tis summer, the darkeys are gay,
The corn top's ripe, and the meadow's in the bloom,
While the birds make music all the day.
The young folks roll on the little cabin floor,
All merry, all happy and bright,
By an' by hard times come a-knocking at the door;
Then, my old Kentucky home, good night!

Weep no more, my lady;
Oh, weep no more today!
We will sing one song for the old Kentucky home,
For the old Kentucky home far away.

They hunt no more the possum and the coon
On the meadow, the hill and the shore;
They sing no more by the glimmer of the moon
On the bench by the old cabin door.
The day goes by like a shadow o'er the heart,
With sorrow, where all was delight.
Time has come when the darkeys have to part,
Then, my old Kentucky home, good night!

Weep no more, my lady, etc.
The head must bow, and the back will have to bend,
Wherever the darkey may go.
A few more days and the trouble all will end
In the fields where the sugar canes grow.
A few more days for to tote the weary load—
No matter; 'twill never be light.
A few more days till we totter on the road.
Then, my old Kentucky home, good night!

Weep no more, my lady, etc.

FOUND ODD WAYS OF EARNING AN EDUCATION.
Columbia Student Group Made $57,705. One Worked as a Bootblack.

The quest for funds with which to pay his way through college brought a student of Columbia university, New York, to his knees last summer as a bootblack. In two weeks he saved $20. Then he turned mason and saved $15 in another two weeks. Next, he took up farm labor and saved another $20. The total gave him a good start on the winter's tuition bill.

Other needy Columbia men spent the hot summer months in much the same way and, while their wealthier classmates were idling, earned $57,705.76, an increase of almost $20,000 over 1912, according to the report given out by the appointments committee, which for the first time in years was responsible for practically half of the money earned by the students, or $28,312.53, which is $13,000 more than for the preceding year.

One bustling youth of the third year class conducted a party through Europe, which netted him all his expenses and a little pocket money besides. Another earned $25 writing signs and trimming windows and then turned his hand at faking at country fairs, which netted him $100 and expenses.

An engineering student sold real estate and at night clerked at a soda fountain for a gross gain of $150. Another worked at night as an automobile salesman and earned $330 in the four months. One engineering student earned $150 as a pharmacist and another as a sailing yacht and netted $50 in addition to expenses.

SICK, SOUR STOMACH, INDIGESTION OR GAS
Take "Pape's Diapiesin" and in Five Minutes You'll Wonder What Became of Misery in Stomach
Wonder what upset your stomach— which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapiesin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapiesin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapiesin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.—Adv't.

Got His Reward.
Years ago a tradesman whose name is now a household word was employed in a modest capacity in a west end shop in London. While exhibiting some delicate ware to the very first customer he served he let it fall and break. The customer, a doctor, good naturedly took the blame and paid for the broken article. Years later the tradesman, now a wealthy man, called on the doctor, reminded him of the incident and settled on him $5,000 a year for life.—London Express.

Deerwood, Minn., February 5—Appointed by the county board, County Commissioner John A. Oberg attended the conference on agricultural education held in Duluth Wednesday and Thursday at the rooms of the Duluth Commercial club. The purpose of the conference was to recognize the importance of the several county agricultural agents in agricultural development and to bring them into helpful relationship and thereby increase their efficiency in conserving agricultural resources, in promoting the business of farming, the betterment of farm homes and the general uplift of this section of Minnesota.

The funeral of Joseph Erickson was held on Monday afternoon.

Charles G. Osterlund went to Minneapolis Monday, attending to business matters, and returned home Thursday afternoon.

C. J. Oberg has gone to New York where he will visit his brother, the first time in 25 years.

Thorolf Towsen, a nephew of Mrs. Robert Archibald, has started a new bakery.

Carl Carlson, at one time the editor of a Deerwood deportment in a paper, referred to his journalistic experiences which nearly terminated suddenly and most fatally when he accepted a funny story from some contributor.

The Augsburg society holds its election of officers at the last meeting and elected President Rev. M. L. Hostager, vice present P. A. Eldstedt, secretary Olga Skau, treasurer John Olson. The society has a membership of about 70. The next meeting will be held on February 13.

Putting up ice is one of the widespread occupations of Deerwood. Ice is being put up for many of the summer cottagers.

Fatty Woods and Mose DeRoche, of Brainerd, gave a vaudeville act at the Bijou theatre on Tuesday evening. The two boys made a hit with their stunt.

The council had a meeting scheduled for February 3, but there was no quorum present.

A dance will be given at Hilary's hall on February 7. The Knuppel orchestra will furnish the music.

John Meyers, who was in business at Deerwood and then removed to Remer, has returned to Deerwood and again opened his lunch room and confectionery store. Remer was short on business activity, the absence of snow causing stagnation.

Gust Franson is visiting friends in Minneapolis.

Miss Olga Skau visited Brainerd Wednesday.

All Deerwood is expectant awaiting the return from their wedding trip of Mr. and Mrs. William Seafeld. They gave all Deerwood the slip when they were married in Brainerd, but their homecoming will be made an event which the bridegroom cannot sidestep.

A few doses of Hindipo never fail to relieve such troubles, because it cleans out the clogged up, inactive organs, and makes them work properly. It soaks right into the kidneys, cleans out the little filtering cells and glands; neutralizes the urine so it no longer irritates the tender membranes of the bladder; dissolves the poisonous uric acid substances that lodge in the joints and muscles, and scratch and irritate, and cause rheumatism, and cleans out and strengthens the lifeless kidneys so they can filter and sift the poison from the blood, and drive it out of the system.

CARP SPAWN FOR CAVIAR.

May Prove Valuable Product of the Great Lakes.

The Canadian fisheries department is investigating the commercial possibilities of utilizing the spawn of the German carp, which have become quite numerous lately in the waters of Lake Erie and Lake Huron and in the tributary rivers.

Professor Prince, Dominion commissioner of fisheries, states that if properly cured the spawn of carp may be sold as caviar quite as well as the spawn of sturgeon. The demand for caviar has been steadily increasing and prices have risen considerably during recent years because of the limited supply.

If the carp can be made a profitable source of supply for this table luxury this hitherto despised species may be converted into a valuable asset of the lake fisheries.

A CHILD'S LAXATIVE IS "SYRUP OF FIGS"

They Love to Take it and it Doesn't Harm the Tender Little Stomach, Liver and Bowels

If your little one's tongue is coated it is a sure sign the stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When your child is cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, system full of cold, throat sore, or if feverish, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the clogged up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Don't be fooled!—Advt.

Between Times

Sort of in between times, the January days Give a glimpse of sunshine through the frosty haze. No more Christmas carols soundin' through the night; No more "Happy New Year!" ringin' gay an' light. Only 'st remembrance of a holiday. Had our share of pleasure. Now we've got to pay. Thinkin' of the springtime with its skies aglow Journeyin' on to meet it through the wind an' snow.

Ground hog will be with us in a little while. Lookin' fur his shadow in the usual style. We'll draw a little picture, an' we'll pen a little line To give a proper greetin' to our friend We hear once more The melody of birds above the bluster an' the roar.

The past is surely pleasant, an' the future claims our praise. But they're sort of in between times, these January days.

PIG WHICH FARMER ATE LISTED FOR INCOME TAX.

Revenue Collector Refuses Exemption For Family Pork.

"Pigs is pigs" under any and all circumstances, according to a ruling made by E. F. Daley, chief deputy in the office of the United States collector of internal revenue at St. Louis. You cannot even convert your pig into pork and eat him and hope to escape the income tax, under Daley's ruling.

The list of last March a Missouri farmer, who has an income large enough to be taxed, bought two little pigs for $1 apiece. Between March and Christmas these two pigs consumed enormous quantities of corn and other things dear to the pig heart, adding materially to their weight and value.

On Christmas the farmer decided to take his profits in part and sold one of the pigs to a neighbor for $10. The second pig became lonesome, and the farmer, rather than have his charge die of grief, killed him, and he was consumed by the family.

The farmer's gross income on the pig he sold was $9, the difference between the cost price of $1 and the sale price of $10. This part of the problem was very simple, and the farmer decided to himself without advice. He decided that the $9 profit was taxable as income, but when it came to figuring out his income on the second pig the farmer admitted that he was up a tree. He wrote the collector for assistance. Daley ruled that the mere fact that the second pig was consumed in the form of pork did not in the least interfere with the government's rights in the matter, but that the farmer should figure $9 profit on the second pig in his gross income, just as he did with the one which was sold.

Daley explained the decision in this manner: The farmer, who happened to be a married man with a family, was entitled to an exemption of $4,000. This amount exempted is for the purpose of providing the farmer with a reasonably good living. Daley held that if the farmer was allowed to eat his pigs without giving an accounting he would be adding their value to the $4,000 already exempt.

UNITED STATES NOW THIRD AMONG WORLD'S NAVIES

May Drop to Fourth or Fifth—Japan Building Dreadnoughts Faster.

The United States navy ranks third among the naval armaments of the world, according to figures given in Pulsifer's "Navy Year Book," published in Washington as a senate document.

This rank is assigned on the basis of vessels completed and vessels under construction. Great Britain ranks first, with a total tonnage of 2,052,711. Germany has 943,338 tons, the United States 760,002, France 645,891, Japan 497,199, Russia 283,081, Italy 259,136 and Austria 198,351.

These figures show Great Britain with more tonnage than Germany and the United States is harder pushed by France than it is pressing Germany.

In the amount of appropriations the United States stands second only to Great Britain for 1913. Great Britain's appropriations for the navy for the fiscal year were $25,713,480, those of the United States were $14,800,000, while Germany's were $11,270,025. Japan's estimated appropriations were $45,105,151.

The United States now has seven battleships of the Dreadnought type and twenty-four of the pre-Dreadnought type. Five Dreadnoughts are building.

Great Britain has eighteen Dreadnoughts and forty pre-Dreadnoughts, with fourteen Dreadnoughts building. Germany has thirteen Dreadnoughts, twenty pre-Dreadnoughts and six Dreadnoughts under construction. Japan has two Dreadnoughts and four building.

For many years the United States held second rank among naval powers. Recently, however, Germany has forced this country into third place. Japan is now building Dreadnoughts faster than the United States is.

AN ALPINE THRILL

Wild Slide Down the Snow Slope of a Mountain Peak.

SWEEP INTO AN ICE FUNNEL

Perilous Experience of an Explorer Who Was Imprisoned a Whole Night in a Treacherous Crevasse in a Glacier on the Brink of a Gaping Chasm.

Some thrilling experiences once befell Frederick Chamberlin while he was exploring the Alps. In the Wide World Magazine he writes of an adventure that befell him on the afternoon of a September day when he was descending the snow slope of a mountain.

"Suddenly I found myself in front of a particularly nasty serac, or ice ridge, that gave very little foothold. The surface was not broken and crumbly, but just smooth, treacherous ice. However, I was not going to be daunted, so I wormed my way up and was about to descend the other side when without warning my feet shot from under me, and I started careering down the slope at break neck speed.

"Down I slid, straight through a funnel shaped hole into a partly formed crevasse. I brought up sharply against a small bar of ice that only just prevented me from continuing my headlong career into a gaping chasm below.

"For a few seconds I lay half stunned; then I carefully got on my feet, felt my body all over to see that no bones had been broken and looked round for my ice ax, but that had disappeared.

"I saw a slight crack in the surface of one of the slides, and I tried to draw myself up, but my fingers could not get a firm hold in the slippery ice, and I was soon forced to give that up. Then I tried lying flat on my back in the funnel through which I had entered my prison, and firmly planting my knees against its sloping roof, endeavored to work myself back. Here too, I failed.

"Being by this time quite desperate, I took out my little pocket knife to try to cut steps in the slope. My still turn fingers led the knife slip at the first attempt, and, although I groped about for a long time, I failed to recover it.

"My last chance had gone with the knife. The darkness creeping on and enveloping everything, the dead silence, the bitter cold, were all beginning to take effect, and I groaned at the prospect of the long night in front of me. I dared not lean too far back, for that slender bar of ice might give way. I called out loudly at intervals, but the sound was stifled by the overhanging walls.

"Soon it was pitch dark, and to while away the time and keep my spirits up I loudly sang a popular American song. But soon my thoughts became gloomy again. There was no sound but an eerie drip, drip, down below, and sometimes the grinding, tearing, booming collapse of a whole serac would set my nerves quivering. I shivered incessantly, for I was wet through from constant contact with the ice, and the night seemed interminable.

"When I was on the point of utter collapse the first gray daylight mercifully

Began to filter info my prison. Now I must make by last desperate attempt to escape.

"As a forlorn hope I looked about again for my knife. My eyes caught a glint on a fan shaped piece of ice, and there, just over the dark chasm, where providentially it had fallen the night before, I spied it. Determined not to lose it again, I attached it to my wrist by a piece of string and started digging at the steep ice slope.

"Three and a half hours I slaved in the ice cavern, and then was able to crawl up, digging my toes in at every step, till I could draw myself up into comparative safety on the ledge above. I lay there, gasping, for a few seconds; then, taking the greatest precautions all the while, I passed between the remaining crevasses and at last descended safely to the firm rocks."

To Union Men and Women

I wish to say to union men and women and all others in sympathy with them that I have been a union man since May, 1902, being a charter member of Local No. 951, U. B. of C. & J. of A.

I now own a sawing machine, the only union machine in the city and can succeed if the union men and women of the city will put themselves out a little to phone to No. 375 when they need wood cut. There are 1,500 union men in the city who could keep this saw busy if they would try. I only use one horse to haul my machine with. I hear that other parties are saying that it is the same if you hire them or me. I have no connection with anyone except myself alone. Thanking you for your patronage I remain,

NECESSITY OF ACTION

The people of this city should be their own masters in the matter of securing the gas plant, the proposition of which is now up to Mayor Henning, and which hinges on his approval or veto. For years the people of Brainerd have endeavored to accomplish something along this line but success has not crowned their efforts in the past and now that it is among the possibilities to secure for the city a gas plant backed by parties financially able to build and operate it it would seem that there should be no hesitation on the part of the mayor in signing the ordinance which has been passed by the council granting a franchise.

The people of this city should not be denied the privilege and benefits to be derived from a plant of this kind because those who are opposed to it favor a municipal ownership plant, for the city is in no position now to finance a proposition of this kind and within a reasonable time the state law provides that the city may take the plant over upon an appraisal by arbitrators, which is a safeguard as to the city's interests in the matter and could be acted upon whenever the city sees fit to take the matter up and its finances are in shape to handle the proposition. Mayor Henning should look at this matter from the standpoint of the welfare of the city instead of from the standpoint of immediate municipal ownership. He has it in his power to give the people who elected him mayor a commodity they have long wished for, and it is his duty to do so.

In the third game the South Sides secured 682 pins and the Professionals 770. This is the first match game rolled on the new Campbell alleys.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

At the Grand
The Melvin O'Neill Trio is a refined high class act, consisting of real good harmony singing and comedy of the highest order. Very few singing acts on the vaudeville stage surpass the general ability to entertain, possessed by this trio. Australia is the vaudeville man's heaven as there is only one performance a day, and this act has played the highest circuits over there. Everybody who likes harmony singing should see this act. They took three encores which shows that Brainerd people know a good thing when they run across it.

King & Brown, the two men with one pair of legs, are the very best in the acrobatic line and evoked the applause of the audience at the Grand last night.

There is a two-reel feature entitled "Eileen of Erin." This story takes place in a little Irish settlement on the coast of Ireland. Dennis Morris is chosen leader of the patriots and his mother who is rather superstitious, has an old woman tell her fortune from a tea cup. The old woman tells her that Denny has been captured by the English and put into prison and as she sees him (in a vision) about to be hanged. She breaks the tea cup and tells no more. Come to the Grand and see what the outcome is.

The comedy for tonight is an "Amateur Animal Trainer."

Columbia

Another fine program was given last night at the Columbia. Every picture was greatly appreciated by the large crowd. Tonight there will be a complete change including two or three of the greatest films ever made.

The first to receive special mention is that Vitaphone headliner, "The Masked Dancer." The next would be the "Engineer's Revenge." This powerful drama deals with railroad life and all its wonderful situations.

The other two pictures were booked for the express purpose of a good laugh. The musical program as usual is par excellence. Don't miss the program for Friday and Saturday. Especial attention is called to the bargain matinee Saturday afternoon when everybody will be admitted for 5 cents. Mothers brings the children and forget your cares and troubles.

Bridge Fill Bonds in Northeast Brainerd Offered For Sale Next Tuesday Evening

$100 EACH OR MULTIPLES

And Accrued Interest—Application Can be Made to City Clerk Roderick Now

On Tuesday evening, February 10, the city of Brainerd will receive bids for the $22,000 bonds voted to be issued to put in the bridge fill in Northeast Brainerd.

They will be issued in sums of $100 or multiples thereof and citizens may purchase the same at par value and accrued interest, making application now to the city clerk, V. N. Roderick, who will give further information.

The council has suggested to the sinking fund commissioners the advisability of investing $10,000 of the city's funds in these bonds, the object being to get the improvement under way and to give employment to people when it is greatly needed as at the present time.

Guaranteeing the payment of these bonds is the entire credit of the city. The bonds bear 5 per cent interest, payable semi-annually at the city clerk's office.

RESIGNS FROM THE BOARD

County Commissioner J. J. Tucker, Recently Appointed Postmaster at Fort Ripley

SERVED YEAR AS COMMISSIONER

Made a Record as an Efficient, Effective Officer—New Election February 17

County Commissioner J. J. Tucker, of Fort Ripley, who resigned at the last meeting of the board of county commissioners, to accept an appointment as postmaster, served a year on the board and made a record as an efficient, careful and effective officer.

His business training stood him in good stead and he was especially valuable in the matter of demurrage charges and estimating what were proper charges. He was a man easily interviewed and one who took absorbing interest in his duties as a commissioner. His colleagues regret to see him leave.

An election to select his successor will be held on February 17 at 2 o'clock at the court house and notices have been sent to the nine chairmen of the board of supervisors of the townships of the first commissioner's district.

MIKE REILLY HEARD FROM

Says Mayor Should Sign the Ordinance—Gas Needed in Brainerd

Editor Brainerd Dispatch, Brainerd, Minnesota.

Dear Sir:

Last fall when Bush won a game of ball from New York, the citizens of Brainerd spent considerable money telegraphing congratulations and they also tendered him a banquet on his return, all of which was perfectly proper. All this was done because they thought it was a good boost for Brainerd.

Now the city council of Brainerd has passed an ordinance granting a gas franchise and there seems to be some doubt as to the mayor signing same. As a citizen of Brainerd, I consider this the most important thing they have done in Brainerd for many a year and it ought to receive his signature without a question. If the people will get together and show the same interest that they do over winning a game of ball, they might be able to show his Honor that he ought to sign it. I, for the life of me, cannot see how anyone can object to it.

Let those who do not want to use gas leave it alone, and let those who want it and are willing to pay for it have the privilege of having it. I know there are a lot of people who do not really know the advantages of gas as a fuel. There is nothing nicer for a quick meal, and I as a taxpayer want to go on record as being in favor of this franchise and want to congratulate the members of the council who voted for it.

Respectfully yours,
M. J. REILLY.

ARRESTS BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

California Physician Describes New Remedy and Its Effects.

A newly discovered treatment of "washing" the kidneys with an alkaline solution is declared by Dr. A. T. Charlton of the Los Angeles County (Cal.) hospital to be a positive "arrest" of Bright's disease in any stage, and of Charlton cites as proof twenty cases in which he applied the method. Dr. Charlton's most severe test was that of John Frohman, a laborer, who was brought to the hospital in the tropical or last stage of the disease. By using a "high irritation" pressure, Dr. Charlton declared, he had not only enabled Frohman to leave the hospital, but that the man would live his natural span of days so far as his kidneys were concerned.

Dr. Charlton is engaged in making a minute report of his discovery, its application and the cases treated by him to the American Medical association and to several other scientific bodies.

Former City Attorney M. E. Ryan in an interview with the Dispatch representative this morning said:

"I have given the gas franchise considerable study and particularly have I studied the forfeiture clause. The forfeiture clause of any franchise is by far the important feature of it and that clause in this franchise is certainly well drawn and amply protects the citizens of Brainerd. Under this clause the city council retains absolute control of the gas company's conduct and unless the company measures up to the full requirement of the contract, the council can put it out of business in thirty days. The forfeiture clause, together with the right given by the statutes to take over the plant at any five year period is absolute protection to the people of our city.

No, I don't believe the city should even think of building a gas plant. My activity in the organization of, and work in the old municipal ownership league which resulted in taking over the waterworks system is sufficient evidence that I believe in municipal ownership, but the taking over an established utility that is on a paying basis and the installation of a new utility, followed as it always is by several lean years, is a vastly different thing.

My plan would be to give the franchise and just as soon as they got it to paying operating expenses, take it away from them under the statutes and add it to our water and light business."

BUTTERFLY IN WINTER

Charles Elledge, at Crow Wing Dam, Captures Insect Flying About His Parlor

Butterflies in winter! That's what Crow Wing county is producing. Charles Elledge, foreman of the Crow & Stoner farm situated near the Crow Wing power dam of the Cuyuna Range Power Co., captured one in 21 below zero weather. He caught the insect and brought His Butterfly Majesty to the Dispatch office and the insect is flapping around in a baking powder can and when given his freedom, flies about the printing rooms. He is being given a little water and fed on honey and is thriving as only butterflies can in Minnesota's ideal winter weather. Occasionally he dives into the paste pot and obtains strong nourishment there.

Mr. Elledge gave the details of the capture of the butterfly. His wife, it appears, had gotten some clothes from a closet and Mr. Elledge was assisting her, when suddenly they heard the buzzing and drumming of wings making a noise like an electric motor running wild. Mr. Elledge thought first the voltage had jumped beyond control.

Whipping the air in his first flight was a lively butterfly with a spread of wings reaching half a foot. He fluttered around until captured. "This beats anything that ever happened in Lancaster, Wis.," said Mr. Elledge. "I have a brother-in-law out there and he's an editor and they usually keep track of everything curious, but this will have him a-going when he reads it."

SIGN THE GAS PETITION QUICK

If Committees Have Failed to Get Your Name the Petition in Dispatch Office

ACT NOW, FOR NOW IS THE TIME

Five Days For Mayor to Consider Gas Franchise are up on Monday, Feb. 9 at 11 A. M.

Today committees are working energetically in every ward of the city getting signers to the petitions favoring the gas ordinance as granted by the council.

If your name has been omitted, call at the Dispatch office and affix your signature to the petition there. The more names can be added the more formidable the petitions become and the more effect it will have on Mayor R. A. Henning.

At 11 in the morning of Monday, February 9, the five days' limit expires. If the mayor has not vetoed the ordinance, it becomes a law without his signature.

The time to get gas in Brainerd is now. Think of the industries booming Brainerd within a short time! A $75,000 city hall, $22,000 bridge fill, $100,000 gas plant if the gas ordinance is signed by Mayor Henning, a street railway system, and lots of other business of all kinds.

Don't throw any monkey wrenches in the wheels of progress. The sentiment of the people is for gas NOW not ten years hence.

There have been circulated in every ward of the city petitions bearing this heading:

"We the undersigned, residents of Brainerd, desiring the use of gas for cooking purposes in our homes, and having familiarized ourselves with the provisions of the gas franchise recently passed by the city council, and now awaiting the signature of Mayor R. A. Henning, and realizing that the city is in need of this modern necessity, and now has the opportunity of securing a gas plant that will be a needed convenience in our homes and a credit to our city, do respectfully urge Mayor Henning to sign said franchise."

In the first ward are these signers: Nick Lauer of the Iron Exchange hotel; Henry Spalding of the Spalding Cafe; Maurice LeMoine of the Antlers hotel; W. T. Larrabee, of the Ideal Cafe; Andrew Carlson of the Hotel Earl; O. H. Johnson of the Ransford hotel; Iver Holden of the Central Hotel; Henry I. Cohen, T. H. McIntyre, T. H. Schafer, Wm. Ragan, Wm. Brady, W. V. Turcotte, A. P. Drogseth, M. W. Price, Ed. Ovig, O. L. Ovig, A. G. Parker, J. A. McMannis, C. J. Evensta, of the City hotel, Wm. Schlange, H. B. Van Sickle, Severn Swanson, C. A. Bevier, B. L. Lagerquist, A. B. Anderson, Fred Drexler, R. W. Sherlund, Andy Wesley, S. V. Long, George H. Gardner, P. B. Nettleton, Andrew Fall, Lars Ericson, of the Ericson Brothers bakery.

These are just a few names gathered this morning and indicate that practically every hotel man approached is in favor of gas.

In the second ward these have signed the petition: D. E. Whitney, E. S. Houghton, J. A. Cochran, F. S. Parker, John Carlson, Sam Earker, W. E. Parker, O. D. Larson, R. L. Russell, O. A. Peterson, H. F. Michael, G. A. Beale, F. M. Koop, J. W. Koop, I. U. White, C. M. Patek, Dr. H. Ribbel, Senator C. D. Johnson, Judge Mal Clark, S. P. Coffrain, Clyde E. Parker, E. F. Murphy, Dean White, Fred L. Ingersoll, F. W. Wieland, W. W. Latta, James M. Elder, J. B. Schmidt, David R. Craig, G. E. Neogard, Louis Sandberg, V. Dewald, Erick Kronberg, Mrs. John Willis, J. St Cyr, A. J. Ellison, G. H. B. Darling, A. T. Fisher, L. S. Budd, W. S. Orne, H. A. Kaatz, John Peterson, B. C. McNamara, H. E. Kundert, L. M. Depue, E. P. Sillp, R. P. Nolen, W. D. McKay, Carl Zapffe, J. E. Rothaus, Dan C. Peacock, C. J. Duffey, A. P. Raymond, P. Johnson, Frang G. Wright, J. P. Barney, Wm. Bartsch, G. W. Chadbourne, F. A. Farrar, R. B. Withington.

The petition circulated in the fifth ward bears these names: G. Halvorson, A. J. Starritt, Mrs. George Hess, Mrs. Englund, Mrs. M. E. Morrison, E. E. McQuillin, L. H. Roderick, F. H. Grant, Rev. M. L. Hostager, A. P. Cardle, F. B. Winslow, W. B. Cutler, E. L. Stallman, A. P. Nelson, C. Katz, W. H. Britton, Christ Schwabe, A. K. Lukens, Jens Molstad, W. H. Johnson, L. T. I. Dillan, Mrs. M. L. Nelson, Charles Peterson, Mrs. A. Purdy, Fred T. Lux, A. Hagberg, John A. Hoffbauer.

The notable feature of the fifth ward's petition is the number of housewives signing the same. There are other petitions out in the fifth, one bearing 200 names and the circulator was so busy he could not be reached to bring it to the Dispatch office.

On Saturday the other ward petitions and other names added to the petitions mentioned above will be published.

"GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY" FEBY. 8

Will be Observed at the Presbyterian Church on the Coming Sabbath Day

REV. W. J. LOWRIE'S SERMON

Will Speak on "The Claims of the Church" and "The Power of Prayer."

This coming Sabbath will be observed in the Presbyterian church as "Go to Church" Sunday. Committees have been appointed whose duties are to invite men and women to go to church.

Rev. W. J. Lowrie, the pastor, will speak on "The Claims of the Church" in the morning and on "The Power of Prayer" in the evening.

Word comes from Chicago that fully half a million persons renewed their acquaintances with church last Sabbath. It was "go-to-church" Sunday and the campaign to encourage attendance resulted in at least 100 per cent increase, in the 1,200 churches of that city.

The musical program will be announced later.

"Go to Church" Sunday in Kansas City, Mo., was celebrated by 150,000 persons. The watch word there was "go to church, any church, but be sure to go." In Chicago fully half a million people renewed their acquaintances with the church. At Baltimore, Md., a large attendance increase was reported. In Milwaukee Wis., extra street cars were needed to carry the 35,000 people who do not usually go to church.

MEANS MUCH TO BRAINERD

P. B. Nettleton Urges Strong Points in Favor of Gas Ordinance

To the Editor: I have been asked my opinion on the gas question which is now agitating the minds of many citizens. It is a very important matter and the correct solution has quite a bearing on the subject of making Brainerd a desirable city in which to live. It would be a good thing to say of Brainerd, we have both electric lights and gas.

I have had 20 years experience with gas in Minneapolis and Seattle. "Cook with Gas" is the slogan of the gas company. My wife says she couldn't keep house without gas for cooking. She simply turns on the gas, lights a match, a flash and the fire is built.

When through using simply turn off—no wood box, coal scuttle or ashes. No extra heat in summer. In a house without a heating plant, I used a common heating stove below, up stairs in the bed rooms and bath I used small gas heating stoves costing $1.50 to $3.00 each. Before retiring I light the gas stove—in a few minutes the room is warm then turn out and turn in.

In the morning, repeat, light the gas, turn in—in a few minutes turn out into a warm room to dress. In late fall and between seasons in spring, the gas stove will take off the chill in any room before starting main fires.

The greatest gain is the convenience and comfort in cooking. I pity any woman who has to cook without

Why Not?

Why not profit by our dilemma. We've more coats than we know what to do with. We'll have many wintry days yet ahead and why not purchase a coat now for the remainder of the winter and all of next? You take the choice of any colored and a portion of our black coats at the following prices:

gas after having once used it. I scarcely need mention the saving of time and temper in starting a fire especially when in a hurry, and the advantage of regulating the blaze instantly. As to cost, that depends largely on the user much like burning lights, one may be wasteful or economical like burning lights. My gas bills in Seattle run from $2.50 to $3.50 per month for cooking gas. It would be very convenient for heating here but whether it would be economical or not can only be told by trial.

For cooking I would choose gas at almost any price because of its convenience and comfort. Women who do their own work are more interested in this gas matter than any one else and if any of them have any influence with Mayor Henning or the four aldermen who opposed it, they would do well to shout in their ears the slogan "Cook with Gas."

I believe this gas franchise means much to Brainerd and that if the mayor and opposing aldermen were familiar with the practical advantages and the importance of saving time in starting they would withdraw all opposition. If we act favorably now it will be one and a half years before the plant is finished. Who wants to wait longer?
P. B. NETTLETON.
